

Social and Personal

Professor S. C. Mitchell, of Richmond College, was heard with great pleasure last afternoon at the Jefferson Club, in his lecture on Napoleon's career and the influence of the French Revolution which affected it.

This is third in the series of lectures given under the direction of Mrs. Edward N. Callach. The audience, last afternoon, was large and the amount of interest shown most flattering to the lecturer.

After he had finished, tea was served, guests being seated at small tables in congenial groups, and served by pretty young girls.

Ladies who assisted Mrs. Callach in the entertainment of guests and in serving were: Mrs. Leon Dittelmeyer, Mrs. Simon Block, Mrs. Meyer Kirsch, Miss Rebecca Whitlock, Miss Carrie Stern, Miss Kate Blininger, Miss Estelle Whitlock, Miss Belle Block, Miss Carrie Kaufman, Miss Beula Elchell and Miss Fanny Mittelbacher.

The wedding of Miss Lula Florence Mountcastle, the daughter of the late Oliver Mountcastle, to Mr. Samuel B. Frischhorn, the son of the late Louis and Mrs. Julia M. Frischhorn, took place at 8:30 o'clock last evening in the home of the bride, on East Broad Street, by the Rev. Robert A. Goodwin, of St. John's Episcopal Church.

The bride came in with her uncle, Dr. John R. Hinchman, who gave her away. Her attendants were her sister, Miss Estelle B. Mountcastle, Miss Hattie Williams and Miss Rosalie Pettis.

Mrs. and Mr. Frischhorn left last evening for a Southern tour. They will return to No. 215 Governor Street when they return.

The Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities met last afternoon at 2 o'clock in the rooms of the Virginia Historical Society building, with Mrs. J. Taylor Ellison presiding.

Much routine business was transacted. The members of the association present were much interested in the memorial to be presented to Congress, for the completion of the breakwater at Jamestown. It is now about half finished, and it is considered to be highly necessary to prevent the encroachment of the water, having it wholly done as soon as possible.

Additional excavations have been made at Jamestown since the last meeting, and the ladies have concluded that the upturning of the whole of their part of the Jamestown island, if practicable, would result in fresh historical discoveries of what is now hidden beneath the soil.

The Milton Work Whist Club had its weekly meeting at the Woman's Club last afternoon. Victors, north and south in a spirited game of compass whist, were Mrs. Benjamin Nash and Miss Claire Guillaume, east and west, Mrs. Frank Woodward and Mrs. Noel.

The Emma Andrews Whist Club will meet at 4:15 P. M. Friday, at No. 916 Park Avenue.

Mrs. W. E. Thurston and her professional class gave a most successful dramatic and musical recital at the Woman's Club last evening.

Mrs. Thurston herself gave a fine rendition of the closing scene in "The Cross" and was heartily applauded.

She was assisted by Mrs. Maude Porter Gunn and the Virginia Glee Club, the following being the full programme:

Vocal selection.....Virginia Glee Club
Dramatic recitation.....Miss Lily Hechler

The Great Difference between the Burk Tailored Apparel and that of other stores is the outcome of greater and better facilities for good clothes-making skillfully employed. There is more character in a Burk Tailored Suit or Overcoat, more quality, style and vastly superior workmanship than ever to obtain at a corresponding outlay elsewhere, and the reason is plain. You are on the ground floor when you purchase the Burk Clothing. From maker direct to wearer is the proposition here.

High-Class Suits and Overcoats.

Miss Ruby Bodeker, Mrs. John W. Richardson, Mrs. Emanuel Block, Mrs. B. B. Smith, Mrs. James Keith, Mrs. Gordon McCabo, Mrs. Davis, of Petersburg, Va.; Mrs. L. O. Miller, Mrs. A. J. Pyle and Miss Annie Reddy.

In Honor of Miss Booker.

Miss Elizabeth Scott Booker, whose marriage to Mr. John Spencer Epes, of Petersburg, will be a leading society event in Suffolk, Va., this evening, had a beautiful reception tea given in her honor yesterday by Mrs. J. P. Plimmer, one of the most gracious and hospitable of Suffolk's society matrons.

The parlors and halls of the Plimmer home were decorated in ferns, palms and carnations.

Mrs. Plimmer, gowned exquisitely in hand-embroidered white crepe de chine, was assisted in receiving by Miss Booker, in a cluny lace robe, worn above blue tulle with pearl ornaments; by Miss Fay Parker in velvet and lace trimming; by Miss Anna Elam, in white Parisienne mill over white satin, pearls; by Mrs. Charles M. Boswell, in white velvet above tulle with garniture of white lace and applique.

Very handsome table decorations showed Euterpe in green satin and silver, candle-sticks and candelabra, holding pink and green wax tapers.

The Suffolk Literary Club, of which Miss Booker has been a prominent member, attended the reception. Among the out-of-town guests present were: Miss Anna Elam, of New York; Miss Sally Friend, of Petersburg; Miss Louie Parham, of Newsoms; Miss Watson, of North Carolina; Mrs. J. C. Edwards, of Portsmouth; Miss Annie Jenkins and Miss Walter Jefferson, of Richmond.

Miss Edmunds, of Washington, presided at the punch bowl. Miss Booker is a great favorite in Richmond, where she has frequently visited and is very popular.

Personal Mention.

Friends of Miss Augusta Daniel are much pleased to know that she will spend winter in Richmond, and that she will take charge of Miss Blair's literary classes during the absence of the latter.

Miss Florence Borden, daughter of Mr. Spencer Borden, of Fall River, Mass., reached the city to-day to be the guest of Miss Sara H. Harrison, of No. 112 South Street.

Miss Borden, besides being an unusually attractive young lady, will be the object of special interest from golf players, as she is said to be an excellent player, herself. This is her first visit to Richmond.

Miss Sara Harrison, of Danville, is the guest of Mrs. Carrington, at No. 216 East Main Street.

Mrs. John Steinbrecher left last week for Baltimore and Philadelphia.

Miss Mary Drewry and her guests are visiting Miss Bertha Adamson, at Bon Air.

Miss Susie Donohoe, of Fairfax county, is the guest of her father, State Senator Donohoe, at the Powhatan.

The Baltimore season opened brilliantly at Lehmann's Hall Monday evening when the Bachelors' Cotillon Club had its first dance, and many Virginians were present, among them Mr. and Mrs. John Moseley Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lee Valentine and General Fitzhugh Lee, who received quite an ovation.

Another Joe Adams.

The Joe Adams who was fined in Police Court Saturday morning for drunkenness was not the one who lives at No. 1215 St. John Street.

"I noticed in going through Snyder & Hundley's stores, they have blue, yellow and pink tags on some lovely goods; what does it mean?" "It means 50 per cent. off on those with blue, 33-1/3 off on those with yellow, and 25 per cent. off on those with pink tags attached." Don't miss this sale; it begins Monday, November 29.

DAILY FASHION HINTS.

GIRL'S OR MISSES' ROUND YOKE NIGHT DRESS.

A style that has always been popular for girls is the round yoke night dress shown here. It is made by the front, back and yoke, and having the regular Bishop collar length. The pattern also provides for a turn-over collar, although the neck may be simply trimmed with edging.

pretty idea is to make the yoke of alternate rows of tucking and insertion and if one prefers, the yoke edge outlined by a wide embroidery ruffle. Muslin, nain-sook, cambric, outing or flannel are the materials usually employed in the construction of these garments.

No. 4491—Sizes 4, 6, 8, 10, 12, 14 and 16 years.

On receipt of 10 cents this pattern will be sent to any address. All orders must be directed to THE LITTLE FOLKS PATTERN CO., 75 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK. When ordering, please do not fail to mention number.

Cream of Spinach Soup.
Boiled Fish, Egg Dressing, Roast Lamb.
Stewed Celery, Cabbage Pudding.
Lima Beans, Potato Balls.
Lettuce Salad.
Hedgehog, Wine Sauce.

Recipe for Hedgehog—Two cups of rice, one quart of milk, four eggs, one and one-half cups of sugar, one package of gelatin, one teaspoonful of vanilla.

Boil the rice until quite tender, then set aside to cool, but do not let it get cold. Dissolve the gelatin in the milk.

Beat the eggs and sugar thoroughly together and add these and the rice to the milk and gelatin. Put all on the fire and allow them to become thoroughly heated. Flavor and then place in a hedgehog mould to form.

Blanche a quart of a pound of sweet almonds, and after the "hedgehog" is turned out on the platter, which will be sent to table, stick it full of blanched almonds to simulate quills and dust it lightly with powdered cinnamon. Serve with white wine sauce, sweetened and crowned with whipped cream.

Timely Hints.

If hands are hard and chapped, much relief may be had by making a paste of two teaspoonfuls of oil of sweet almonds, one teaspoonful of glycerine, one ounce of rose water, thirty drops of tincture of benzoin, beaten well together and the skin with powdered oatmeal. Lave a pair of with the paste and wear at night.

For extreme oiliness of the skin try a mixture composed of a grain of sulphate of zinc, six drops of compound tincture of lavender and two ounces of distilled water. In using these ingredients tell your druggist that you are going to use it as a face wash.

An excellent recipe for face cream is found by taking enough mutton oil to fill an egg shell and adding to it a quantity of cream, and a pinch of salt. Beat thoroughly and beat as it cools with an egg beater. Perfume with bergamot and if too stiff add almond oil.

Beauty and the Beast.

Queen Wilhelmina, of Holland, is an example of a charming and attractive young woman choosing an ugly man. Fat and plain of face, and a royal person, she was married to Prince Heinrich, of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, has had great fascination for womankind.

Gossip of the West says that a young Duke was taken by surprise when the little Queen of Holland showed her preference for him, and yet it was not the first time that he had been admired and courted by women of high rank.

When Princess Helena, of Russia, suddenly broke her engagement with Max, of Baden, it was believed to be because she hoped to persuade her parents to let her marry the stout, blond, buckling Heinrich, and the youngest daughter of young Duke, though in vain. In fact, Prince Heinrich was a good deal of a lady killer, and he knew it.

What a Child Thinks.

Josephine Preston Peabody contributes a group of quaint and original child-verse to the Christmas Mopsey Magazine, among which are the following:

"I like to lie and wait to see
My mother braid her hair;
It is as long as it can be,
And yet she doesn't care."
I love my mother's hair.

"And then the way her fingers go—
They look so quick and white—
In and out, and in and out,
And braiding in the light.
And it is always right."

So then she winds it, shiny brown,
Around her head into a crown,
Just like the day before,
And then she looks, and pats it down,
And looks a minute more
While I stay here, all still and cool.
Oh, isn't morning beautiful?"

Morris—Perdue.

Miss Mary Perdue and Mr. Lewis Morris were married Thanksgiving Day in Washington. Miss Perdue is a very attractive young lady, and a sister to Edward and Frank Perdue, two popular young men of Fairmont.

Mr. Morris is an expert machinist, employed at the Chesapeake and Ohio shops. Only a few months ago he returned home from the Philippines where he did valiant service for Uncle Sam.

HISTORIC HOUSE AT PUBLIC AUCTION

Residence of Judge Fitzhugh Put Up, But Held for Private Sale—Property Sold.

Two desirable places of Richmond real estate were sold yesterday afternoon at public auction. Another was put up and a handsome sum bid for it, but taken down, and negotiations are now in progress for its sale privately.

Messrs. J. Thompson Brown & Company offered the large and substantially double brick residence at the corner of Fifth and Leigh Street at 4 o'clock. Bidding was quite spirited until the sum of $6,100 was reached. It did not go beyond this and was finally taken down. The agents are now negotiating for its sale privately for some public purpose. The fact is, the building, having twenty-one rooms, and in apple and span order, and being admirably adapted for a private hospital or sanatorium.

The house has quite a history attached to it. The German minister, DeVoss, built it many years ago, and had nearly the whole square for his garden. Rev. Mr. Moore, father of Mr. J. B. Moore, of this city, married a daughter of Mr. DeVoss, and the father-in-law built a handsome residence for them in his garden and that house now stands in excellent repair. The DeVoss residence was the one put up at auction yesterday. It was one time the residence of Judge Fitzhugh.

Messrs. Brown & Company also offered the residence adjoining Fifth Street, No. 608. It was sold to Mr. Robert Lee Gill for $2,650.

Messrs. Pollard & Bagby, real estate agents, sold No. 2401 East Broad Street yesterday afternoon at public auction. The price was $1,200.

No more real estate sales are advertised until Friday, when Mr. N. W. Bove will offer three unusually handsome buildings lots at the northeast corner of Fairmount Avenue and Twenty-third Street.

The price was $1,200.

ANIMAL STORIES FOR OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

The Handsome Gobbler.

"What an insignificant little thing you are!" exclaimed the big turkey gobbler, as he strutted past a puny chick who was taking its morning meal in the barnyard. "I am so very thankful that I am not such a babe as you."

"I am glad you are pleased with yourself," answered the little chick.

"Pleased with myself? Why, certainly I am, and why shouldn't I be?" exclaimed the big gobbler. "Look at me! handsome and graceful, and large and fat. When I pass the turkey hens all gaze at me in admiration and the other gobblers look on in jealousy."

"But it doesn't always benefit you to be large and fat and handsome," said the little chick.

"Oh, yes, it does," replied the gobbler. "Here comes the farmer now. We will see what he says."

Just then the farmer came along. "I don't want that magnificent gobbler!" he cried. "I shall kill him to-night for dinner to-morrow."

And he did.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.

Case Argued Yesterday and Those Set for Trial.

The United States Circuit Court was engaged all day yesterday with the trial of the cause of B. H. Cottrell & Son vs. the Smokeless Fuel Company, an action for debt on a contract, involving about $5,000, alleged to be due to the plaintiff for non-delivery of coal as per contract.

The testimony in the case was not concluded until the afternoon, and it was after 4 o'clock when Attorney Henry R. Pollard arose to make the opening argument for the plaintiff. He spoke for about an hour. Attorney A. H. Sands opened the argument for the defendant and was speaking when, at 6 P. M., Judge Vaddill adjourned court until this morning. He will then resume and conclude his argument, and Mr. C. R. Sands will close the case for the defendant. Mr. Pollard will make the closing argument.

The following criminal cases are set for trial on the date and at the places named:

United States vs. John Henry Robinson, colored, charged with robbing the United States mails by rifling letters; set for to-day in this city.

United States vs. J. W. Booker Robertson, charged with sending improper matter through the mails in violation of the statutes; set for to-day in this city.

United States vs. John B. Malatesta, charged with personating a Federal officer; set for December 6th, in this city.

The cases of Tim Madden and Fred Davis, charged with robbing the post office at Columbia, set for December 6th, at Harrisonburg, in Judge McDowell's court.

In the case of R. Ernest Layton, held on a charge of complicity in the Columbia postoffice robbery, the grand jury will investigate at the Harrisonburg court, December 8th.

CHESTNUT HILL AND HIGHLAND PARK.
